CONGRESS FACING BIGGEST REARMS RETURNS TO WORK

Numerous Problems Awaiting Solution Include International Questions and Far-Reaching Domestic Matters

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Returning to work today after two weeks' absence, congressmen faced one of the busiest sessions in history and a staggering array of problems awaiting solution. In addition to numerous legislative matters, some of which will have a far-reaching effect on the industrial life of the country, there are international questions of far-reaching import that must be settled, including the treaty of peace with Germany and Austria.

Adjustment was not expected before the end of the session, but the long session coincident with the holding of the national party conventions during the summer. But, despite the mass of work ahead, there were indications that ample time would be found for partisan politics and no side of the coming presidential election would be overlooked. Political speeches in record-breaking numbers were looked for.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 5.—More than 2,500 delegates, representing the miners of the United States, were assembled here today for the convention to discuss the settlement of the nation-wide strike terminated two to three weeks ago by President Wilson, which gave the miners a 14 per cent advance and wage scale also to be formulated for presenting to the commission of three men appointed by the president to consider all matters in dispute and report within 90 days final terms of settlement.

PRESIDENT SOON WILL BE ABLE TO RESUME HIS WORK

(Continued From First Page.) gotten that the president has suffered from neuritis for many years—since before he came to the White House. Indeed, Mr. Wilson took up the type-writer last week, and it was reported that he does rely on a cane because of the weakness in his lower limbs. The president and Mrs. Wilson take breakfast in one of the rooms on the second floor adjacent to the bedrooms as the physician believes the state dining room on the first floor cannot be maintained at an even temperature because of its immense size. Seated at the breakfast table Mr. Wilson has his eyes on the newspaper which he glances at in much the same fashion as the average business man. He looks at the headlines and reads quickly, his eyes rest on those articles which he feels he should read through.

Three Sick, Poor, Deserted Girls Require Clothing

Appeal for three small girls who are homeless and penniless has been made by Miss Ethel McIntyre, matron at the Shelby county detention hospital, where the children are located and where they are receiving medical attention. Requests mainly are for clothes for three children who are the daughters of a chauffeur who left Memphis several weeks ago for parts unknown. Mrs. McIntyre says she has been unable to receive any gifts which authorities of the hospital say will be more than desired. Articles of any size are welcomed.
